

With George Vienhus

NOW THAT WE are once more in the swim of things, locally speaking, that is, after a three-week respite, we seem to be more aware of the plus and minus points of our community.

We attribute this new awareness to the fact that during our vacation we visited a number of cities and towns of various shapes and sizes. Subconsciously we compared them to our own community.

In most instances we found that Campbell would hold its own on most counts.

BUT there is one minus factor that concerns us about our city. We find this puts Campbell in sort of a unique position, in a negative sort of way, in comparison to other cities.

Our city hall does not fly the American flag!

In fact there is no flag pole on or by the building.

True the fire station adjacent to the city hall has a pole on which the flag is raised and lowered daily. But there is none at the city hall.

BUT WHAT CONCERNS US personally, almost as much as the lack of a flag or pole at the city hall, is our own failure to notice the absence before this.

Or if we had known why it was thought unnecessary to have a flag pole, why hadn't we said something about it?

We have been connected with this paper since 1956, which was before the city had purchased and converted the old Congregational church building into a city hall.

If the matter of a flag pole had ever arisen, shucks, we should have reported it.

While we grant that the flag at the fire station could conceivably be considered as flying over the 'civic center' complex, we believe it would not be overdoing it, if the flag would also wave over the city hall.

We feel that it is pretty hard to overdo such things, where government buildings are concerned.

-O-

ADMITTEDLY we have not been one of those who wear the flag on our sleeve so to speak. But we are still mighty proud of the stars and stripes.

And even after serving almost six years in the Army during World War II and have stood literally hours of retreat and reveille, we confess that we still get a lump in our throat when the Star Spangled Banner is played and the flag is raised or when we hear martial music.

And, you know something, we hope we never change in that respect.

And while we are on this patriotic subject, we think it would be fitting, if each City Council meeting was opened with the Pledge of Allegiance.

We recently attended some council meetings in other cities. The Building "slump" in area hits planning of schools

Local schools have begun to feel the effects of the current building "slump" that has hit the area, it was indicated this week.

This unpredicted "slump" has adversely affected the "house count and enrollment" projection formula that the school district has used during the years of explosive growth to qualify for the state aid building program.

Because there are fewer homes under construction this fall than a year ago - or in fact for the past several years - in the Campbell Union School District area, the new schools and additions planned cannot be built under the state aid program as rapidly as originally planned, school officials report.

This was determined as a result of the official October 30 enrollment and house count.

The board of trustees and administration discovered that the houses under construction, normally between 1200 and 1400 at this time of year, have dropped to a low of 752. The anticipated enrollment of 11,200 students is actually now only 10,952.

Because school construction allowed by the State of California under the state aid program is based on these two factors, house count and enrollment, the district will not be able to proceed with its building program until they increase. Therefore, some or all of the projects now ready to start will have to be put off until spring, or possibly even fall of 1965.

Because of the current lower enrollment, this will not create any major problems, according to district officials. But it may lead to a few spotty crowded conditions such as at Hazelwood and Forest Hill, they explain.

The district plans to proceed with necessary site acquisition and architects' plans for projects, so that they can be built as rapidly as possible upon qualifying for the necessary square footage.

District officials anticipate that this lag in pupil population is temporary, possibly due to slowing of defense contracts in the area. The house count and enrollment projections were made in the spring of 1964 in the same manner that had proved effective and accurate for the past 18 years.

Plan bans parking

There will be no parking on Campbell Avenue but there will be ample off-street parking areas in the downtown business section, if the engineer's study of the street is carried out.

Members of the Downtown Redevelopment Committee who have long sought an answer to improving Campbell Avenue in the downtown area enthusiastically approved the engineer's report at their last meeting.

Before parking is eliminated on Campbell Avenue, the off-street parking areas must be developed, it was emphasized. These parking lots would be acquired through the formation of parking districts. Property owners would pay for the acquisition and improvement through city cooperation in the engineering and legal phases of the project. The engineer's future plan also visualizes the middle lane on Campbell Avenue to be used for left turning traffic.

Fast arrest in bank robbery

The Hamilton Plaza Branch of America was robbed of $620 Wednesday noon, October 28, and a young San Jose man was arrested within three hours of the hold-up by FBI Agents.

Arrested at his home where authorities reported finding most of the cash was John Wilkins, 21, 529 N. Fourth St., San Jose. He was arraigned by the U. S. Commissioner on federal complaint of grand larceny and held on $5,000 bail.

They are now COMMISSIONERS

A new chapter in the history of Campbell officialdom will begin this Thursday, November 5, at 8 p.m. when this city's Park and Recreation Commission meets for the first time. Six members of the former Park Advisory Committee will on Thursday, as per city ordinance recently adopted, officially take their seats as commissioners. One more member is to be appointed shortly by the City Council.

The new commission will select officers and draw lots for terms. It is also expected that among the first items to be discussed by the commission will be the matter of the nine-acre creek bed parcel now owned by the water conservation district.

Tug-of-war begins over 10-acre parcel on creek

A tug-of-war over a 10-acre parcel of reclaimed land adjoining another 80 acres of man-made lakes (percolation ponds) along Los Gatos Creek at Camden Ave. showed all indications this week of developing into a real donnybrook.

City of Campbell officials are taking a leading part in the tugging. The land in question all lies within the city limits and the Planning Commission is expected to discuss the possibility of rezoning the parcel tonight.

And on November 10, the county supervisors are expected to add their weight to the push-pull operation.

AS A PARK

Led by City Manager Bob Stephens, the Campbell contingent wants to see the 10-acres become part of the overall parks and recreational development of Los Gatos Creek. Stephens emphasizes that the 83-acre pond area would be available for boating and fishing and could be part of the regional park setup.

The 10-acre parcel is part of a large slice of land along Los Gatos Creek that has been acquired by the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District. It is in excess of the land needed for percolation ponds. So the district wants to get rid of it. But at the going price for such prime industrial land. The land is now being filled and compacted in preparation for its sale. The district plans to ask $275,000 for the parcel.

$275,000

SCVWD officials are agreeable to see the land go to another governmental agency. They prefer it that way, they maintain. In fact to show their good faith they have agreed to wait 40 days before offering it to the public. But district officials feel that the price of $275,000 is a fair one. They also point out that it gives access to 83 acres of ponds and creek land and thus, for $275,000 a recreational area of eight times as great is made available.

City Manager Stephens appeared before the county parks commission last week in an attempt to get that body to act on the matter. Park commissioners, however, indicated that they were not sure that the parcel would tie in with the

Lots of parking in parking lots

The three pictures that appear here were all taken at about 11:30 a.m. last Friday.

the residential streets adjacent to the college are now used for parking.

The two pictures on the right are of the off-street parking lot maintained by the West Valley Junior College between Rincon and Campbell avenues.

Less than one-quarter of the available spaces were being used at the time the photo was taken.

Editorial

Different opinions

We anticipate that in the near future there will be some difficulty in reconciling the different viewpoints that have been expressed by various city officials over the conversion of residential buildings into professional offices.

At the present time a moratorium of 120 days is in effect by the City Council on the issuance of permits in such cases.

The objective of the moratorium is to allow the City Council and Planning Commission to jointly study this conversion problem to see if there is workable solution.

Under city ordinance, conversion of residential buildings into commercial enterprises is prohibited.

But apparently this ordinance does not apply to the conversion of homes into professional offices. And this has been done in a number of cases.

This, then, is the stumbling block in city hall.

Some councilmen have expressed an intense dislike to some of the examples of conversion. They maintain, and with some justification, that the end result in many cases has been somewhat weird and has detracted from the overall "upgrading" of the city in general.

On the other hand, the municipal code spells out the objectives of the Professional Office District type of zoning sort. This mixes things up but good.

This is illustrated by the wording in Section 9308.51: And the conclusion gained from this wording is that the professional office uses established in this district must be designed and landscaped so as to be in harmony with residential uses.

Now that is the rub.

If the intent is to make professional offices be in harmony with residences, conversion of a residence into an office would appear, on the surface anyway, to follow this intent.

On the other hand, the location of a professional office district must be taken into consideration. This type of zoning ordinarily would be used as a "buffer" and would be located in areas inappropriate for commercial development because of the close proximity to residential uses.

It can be argued, again with considerable justification, that it would be much better from an esthetic point of view to have a residential-type office building next to a residential zone than a box-type office building.

We are in sympathy with the councilmen who argue that the hit-or-miss type of residential conversion into offices that has taken place in some areas, particularly Hamilton Ave., doesn't improve the looks of the street in any way.

On the other hand, in some cases, it has been stated that the conversion is only a temporary measure and the property owner intends in some future time to construct a permanent structure that meets all conditions.

Therefore, there is merit on both sides of the case.

It will be interesting to see if these divergent opinions at the city hall can be reconciled.

Creek development

We have long felt that the development of the Los Gatos Creek bed (from Los Gatos through Campbell) into a scenic parks and recreation area should be the goal of the county and cities concerned.

We realize, of course, that such a development would be an expensive undertaking and that it would have to be a long-range program.

But it is a dream that actually could be translated into an actuality, if all the powers-that-be, would coordinate their efforts toward that goal.

That is why we have become a little concerned over the development of a 10-acre parcel of land near Camden Ave., owned by the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District. The land is now listed as excess.

The district plans to put this parcel on the market as industrial land. Campbell officials have attempted to interest the county in acquiring this 10-acre plot and then have it developed into a park to tie in with the other improvements along the creek.

SCVWD is willing to sell it to the city or the county, provided the district gets the going market price.

Basically there is nothing wrong for SCVWD to attempt to replenish its coffers in this way, for the district has no use for the land. It was originally a part of a large tract that the district obtained for percolation ponds and the district has a responsibility to its own taxpayers to see that they get their money's worth for their tax dollar.

On the other hand, we are opposed to tax-supported bodies making a habit of going into the real estate business.

Then there is the academic question of whether one tax-supported body should make a profit in a transaction with another tax-supported agency.

The question, of course, eventually resolves itself into whether the county and the cities can afford to spend $275,000 for this 10-acre site as a park. It is ideally situated and its location adjacent to the percolation ponds also improves its use for recreational and park purposes.

We admit that $275,000 is a lot of dough and we are not convinced that the citizens will ever get their full dollar's worth from it.

But still, in our mind's eye, we can envision that entire creek area developed into an attractive park and recreation area.

And it makes a pretty picture.

JOINT MEETING

But on November 10, at a joint meeting of the county parks commission and the supervisors the matter will be on the agenda. Robert Amyx, county parks director, has been directed to study the matter and make a report at the joint meeting.

In the meantime, back at the Campbell City Hall, wheels are churning as local officials carry on the fight. City officials conceded that Campbell cannot do anything about digging up $275,000 from its own coffers for the land.

ZONING

However, Campbell still controls the zoning of the area.

At the Planning Commission meeting tomorrow night, the matter will be on the agenda. If the commissioners are willing, it is conceivable that the city could initiate a change of zone that would make it impossible for the water conservation district to sell it as industrial property.

Public hearings, of course, would have to be held and both sides then will have their say.

So the tug-of-war is really just getting started.

Community Day

United Church Women of West Valley Council announces plans for World Community Day, Friday, November 6, at 1:00 P.M.

The observance will be held at the First Methodist Church of Los Gatos, 125 Church St. with the theme, "Nations in Community". Tea will follow and Child Care will be provided.

Chairman of the day, Mrs. Medar Hanson, urges women of all churches to explore new answers to common goals of new nations.

School bags and their contents will be dedicated during the service.

Man is victim of assault with chemical

Martin A. Nunes, 795 Minnesota Ave., San Jose, suffered minor burns on his face and eyes early Sunday morning when an assailant suddenly appeared and squirted a caustic solution on him as he was being interrogated by a Campbell Police Officer in the Hamilton Lounge Parking Lot.

Officer Del Perry had stopped to interview Nunes when Thomas M. Moscatelli, 20, 372 So. Genevieve Ave., San Jose, ran up and squirted the caustic solution on the victim. The solution was so strong, Officer Perry reported, that it caused his own eyes and nostrils to smart.

City Hall briefs

William G. Wren has been appointed acting director of public works for Campbell by the City Council. Wren takes the place of Myron D. Hawk, who resigned to take a similar position in Alhambra.

Hawk had been with the city since 1960 and Wren has served as his associate during that time. Wren is an engineering graduate of Montana State College. Before coming with the city he was with the Division of Highways.

CITY COUNCIL Campbell's City Council will meet on Monday, November 9 at 8 p.m. in the council chambers. The Council is expected to discuss the controversial Camden Avenue park site on the creek and possibly may award the contract for Campbell Avenue street improvements from Winchester to the city limits.

PLANNERS

The Planning Commission will meet tonight at the city hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday night is the regular meeting for the planners but because of the election holiday the meeting has been set for tonight.

Two hearings are scheduled. R.A. Gatewood is asking for a variance for rear yard requirements at 964 Torero Plaza and Chez Grattan has applied for a use permit to allow a service station on the proposed extension of Campbell Avenue.

Three "S" approvals are on tap: (1) an addition to an existing service station at Bascom and Fewtrell; (2) six-unit apartment at 176 Adler and (3) an industrial building at 615 McGlincey Lane.

EXPRESSWAY

Mayor Charles Rose at the Trafficways Committee meeting scheduled for November 13 will make the first official pitch for this city before that body to allow Rincon and Latimer Avenues to be cut through when the San Tomas Expressway is built.

The City Council recently passed a resolution asking for the expressway plans to be modified to allow the two streets to go through.

Campbell Community Hospital for medical attention and the plastic container was confiscated by authorities so that the contents could be analyzed by the hospital. Moscatelli gave no reason for the attack. He said he obtained the solution while serving with the Armed Forces in Germany. He was booked for assault with a chemical caustic and held on $2200 bail.

Sorenson, Campbell UF campaign chairman and Bank of America manager, represented the local appeal at the October 28 county report meeting.

General Lauris A. Norstad, president of Owens-Corning Fiberglass, was featured speaker at the luncheon sponsored jointly by the San Jose Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce. This was the second UF meeting designed to survey progress of the campaign on a county-wide basis.

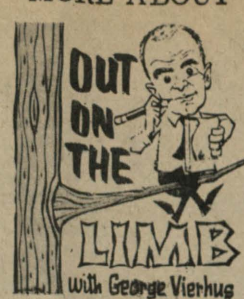

Collectively, efforts of Campbell and the 10 other communities in Central Area chapter has tallied up 81% of the $1,156,766 goal. Other chapter standings are: Sunnyvale-68%, Mountain View-55%, Palo Alto-Stanford-60%, Los Altos-53%, and the new South County area-38%. The overall county goal of $1,897,532 is now 73% accomplished, according to these standings.

Sorenson revealed that Campbell has raised $24,793 this far for the UF. Local goal is $29,009, which Sorenson hopes to meet by November 24 when the drive closes.

"Loaned executives," who have worked full-time with the UF for the past eight weeks, completed their duties at the luncheon. Honored for their work were: C. Douglas Anderson-FMC Corp., H.G. Bartlow and Benjamin H. Genise-Sears Roebuck & Co., Joseph W. Hughes-Lockheed, Dr. Alfred G. Cattaneo-United Technology Center, R. M. Spathe-Lockheed, Arlyn G. Storms-Bank of California, Len E. ANOTHER REASON why we think a little more emphasis should be placed on legitimate and sincere patriotic gestures was because of the recent discussion at the City Council meeting over the perennial problem of the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits at Fourth of July time.

Basically, we suppose, the shooting off of fireworks is supposed to be in some way a part of the celebration of Independence Day. But we doubt very much if most of the purchasers of the so-called safe and sane little gems are concerned about that phase any more.

We agree with Fire Chief George Maxwell that these "safe and sane" jobs are responsible for many fires and injuries. We have long advocated that Campbell join most of the other cities in the county and ban the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

But the Council apparently doesn't feel that way.

They dislike the annual hassle that takes place over who should be granted permits to sell fireworks. But they don't think the youngsters should be deprived of the pleasure of shooting 'em off.

So fireworks in Campbell will continue, except that there will be no waiver of fees as in the past. Luckily no one favoring the sale or use of fireworks in town argued that it would be unpatriotic to ban their sale.

Or we might have blown a fuse right there.

This could open up a revolutionary new field in city services, it was pointed out.

Maybe brushes could be attached to the police cars. Then the cops could sweep the streets on their patrols, someone suggested.

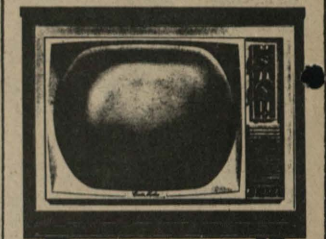

But Chief Morgan doesn't have to worry. The Council changed the wording on the specs.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By Dolores Keywood

"Boys seldom make passes at girls who wear glasses," is an old saying and may have held true at one time but today there's another story.

You are not lost to beauty because you wear glasses. As a matter of fact, going without glasses, when you need them, may impair your beauty. Squinting and frowning are often caused by faulty vision and every one knows this creates lines and wrinkles that are there to stay. And of course, passing friends on the street, without recognition certainly will not help you win any popularity contests.

Eye glasses should be selected with great care. Here are a few tips, to help you make the right choice.

1. Face shape: Round face: frames should be angular. Diamond face: frames should be a bit wider than the cheekbones. Triangular rim slightly curved at top to counteract width of forehead. Square or rectangular: frames with curving lines or a combination of curved and straight lines. Oval face: all shapes are becoming, particularly upswep curving lines.
2. Hair & skin color: contrast is not what you want. If your hair and skin are light, so should your frames be. Pastels are generally most flattering for you. If your hair and skin are rather dark, the bright or darker colors are for you.

3. Eye shape: For small or round eyes, select frames with an upswep and an almost straight lower rim. This will enlarge and elongate this type of eye. Slanted eyes should be played up by wearing the harlequin shape or frames with up lines. And because glasses call attention to the eye, DO wear eye make-up and learn to make your eyes as beautiful as possible.
5. Eyebrows: Glasses should never conceal eyebrows.
6. Always inspect front face and profile to be certain your glasses are flattering from every angle.

P.S. Or, have you ever considered contact lenses?

Club building, at 3 o'clock.

Since January, when the Campbell Museum was opened by the Campbell Woman's Club, much interest has been generated in the history of this area. Many Campbell organizations have offered their cooperation and help. Now the Woman's Club is sponsoring the formation of a Historical Society for our community and other surrounding communities.

Membership in the Historical society will be available to interested citizens, service groups, community organizations and business groups.

At this get-acquainted meeting, the aims and objects of the Historical Society will be discussed, charter memberships will be accepted and a short talk will be given by Mr. John Atkins, teacher of an evening class on "California, People, Places and Events." Refreshments will be served.

All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Hornet Bees cinch midget grid title

Two quick touchdowns in the second period gave the S.C.C. Hornet Bees a 14-0 victory over the Sunnyvale Rockets Sunday and clinched the championship in the midget division of the Pop Warner Football League.

Key tackles, made by Campbell's John Aiello, a student at Blackford School, held the Rockets scoreless. Aiello's defensive plays were judged outstanding.

Eddie De La Rue rambed 25 yards for a T.D. midway in the quarter to culminate a 62 yard march by the Bees. Just before the half ended, Sonny Brasile, an Ida Price student, passed to Ken Ruano of Castro School for 28 yards and the 2nd touchdown.

HORNETS WIN
Last Saturday on the Washington High Field in San Francisco, the S.C.C. Hornets won over the stubborn Mariners 20 to 13. The Mariners, champions of the S.F. Pop Warner League, hosted the Hornets in the Joe Lacey Bowl.

Playing on a field that resembled a bog more than a football field, the Hornets had to come from behind to win. Campbell's Glen Schanck, a Del Mar freshman, was the full-back workhorse who opened the holes for Bob Huber's 2 T.D.s and extra points.

Price School's Ed Kinsil was the secret weapon Saturday as he caught two of QB Rich Troedson's aeriels to keep crucial drives alive. Muir Jr. Hi's Steve Orbanosky scored the second T.D. of the third quarter when he snagged Troedson's pass on the losers ten yard line and faked his way into the end zone.

The Hornets will attempt to win their division flag next Sunday when they take on the San Jose Raiders at Camden High at 1:30 p.m.

TOM GIBBONS

CHARLIE CORDOVA

West Valley JC gridders score 22-0 victory over UOP frosh

Two former Campbell High players, Tom Gibbons and Charlie Cordova, played major roles in West Valley Junior College's 22-0 defeat of U.O.P. frosh last Friday on the Leigh High field.

This Saturday afternoon the West Valley Vikings will entertain San Francisco State's frosh at Townsend Field in Santa Clara. The game will be homecoming and will include a bonfire, dance and queens in the festivities.

Viking head coach, Bob Jones, called the game a fine team effort in the scoring of three touchdowns.

The first score came on a 42-yard drive highlighted by a 27-yard run by Fred Falk while Gibbons set up the second score with a 40-yard punt return and Cordova rolled out for 11-yards to score. Later Cordova hit Jim Tyrell with a 10-yard pass for another TD.

Gibbons was the offensive standout, collecting 83 yard rushing, 50 on pass - snagging - and 132 yards on punt returns.

CAMDEN BEATS BLACKFORD
In another cousin vs. cousin contest Friday afternoon, Camden High smashed Blackford High 26-14. Larry Smith, the 190-pound Camden back accounted for three touchdowns.

Campbell High wins from Westmont High in first meeting of "cousins" on grid

Campbell High turned back its country cousin, Westmont High, on Friday afternoon in the first meeting of the two schools on the gridiron. The Bucs crashed through for a quick 15 points in the second period and then held off the fighting Westmont Warriors to score a West Valley Athletic League 15-6 win.

There was no scoring in the first period. But in the second after the Warriors had been pushed back into their own territory, Al Shimozu tackled Larry Bailey of Westmont in the end zone for a safety to get on the scoreboard.

After the kickoff from the 20-yard line, Walt Womack caught the ball on his 40 and galloped all the way to the goal line for a touchdown.

Campbell then drove for another touchdown with Womack going over on a plunge from the one. Bob Dubcich kicked the conversion and it was 15-0.

Westmont came right back to score in the same period on a four-yard pass from Bailey to John Beebe. Westmont got into scoring position by recovering a fumble.

That ended the scoring for the game and for the rest of the afternoon the two teams played even ball with no serious threats by either school.

Viking harriers win but poloists sink

West Valley College's hard-running harriers continued their winning ways by closing out Cabrillo College 18-44 and Menlo College 15-50 at Cabrillo. The double win assures Coach Tom Smith's Vikings of the Coast Conference dual meet title.

Ben Rogers of West Valley broke the Cabrillo course record by 23 seconds, navigating the hilly Cabrillo layout in 17:32, while teammate Gordy Fredricks was second in 17:49.

The Vikes ran tightly again, placing seven of their runners in the top eight positions. Bill Yoskowitz, Ray Lecoq, Paul Uredenburg, Neal McIntosh, and Larry Powell also scored for West Valley.

WATER POLO
Coach Mac Martinez' water poloists sank twice last week, losing first to San Joaquin Delta College at Stockton 5-2, and then to San Jose City College 10-6 Friday at Los Gatos Swim and Raquet Club.

Playing in the wind and rain, the Vikings showed a lack of scoring punch after having held San Joaquin to a mere five points, and fell 5-2.

West Valley found themselves facing California's third ranked team in San Jose's Jags. Jim Moser hit two goals, and Jim Racy, Tom Scott, Gary Gordon, and Ken Lay one apiece for West Valley, but the Vikes found it wasn't enough to contain a Jag five-point second-half outburst in bowing to the Jags 10-6 and leveling their season record at 4-5.

FIREMEN

Fire Chief George Maxwell has announced that two new fire-fighters are needed by the city. Filing deadline is 5 p.m., November 16. Written exams will be held on November 21 and oral exams on December 4.

Applicants must pass a rigid physical examination and the age range is from 19 to 30. The pay scale ranges from $541 to $657. Particulars can be obtained from the department or city hall on Central Avenue.

"Molly Brown" opens at WVJC

West Valley Light Opera Company will make its bow in the community Friday evening, November 6, with the opening of Meredith Wilson's "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." This will also mark the first non-professional staging of the hit Broadway musical in Northern California.

The debut production will be presented in the auditorium of the West Valley Junior College, 51 E. Campbell Avenue, and will run for the first three week-ends in November. Curtain time is 8:30 PM. Tickets may be reserved by calling the West Valley Light Opera Office, 379-5700. Paul Santos is directing the production and Richard Gordon, of Campbell, is the musical director of "Molly Brown."

Molly is played by Celine Wilcox of Boulder Creek. Doug Hagdahl of San Jose will appear opposite her as Johnny "Leadville" Brown.

Track meet features program for week

By Steve Ellis
The high point of last week's sports events was the Del Mar Invitational Track Meet held on Saturday, Oct. 24 at Del Mar. There were over 400 runners representing 13 schools.

In this meet the Del Mar runners never placed lower than fifth. The Varsity team placed fifth and earned 159 points. This is their poorest showing of the year. But with the added field this was to be expected, and considering the number of schools present, Del Mar is proud of its showing. By earning 113 points the J.V.

team came in fourth. The Sophomores, headed by Dave West with the second fastest Sophomore time of 10:12, came in second with 68 points. The Freshmen, led by Ray Weber with the third fastest Freshman time of 10:45, placed third with 118 points. There are only two days left until the Freshmen, Sophomores, and J.V. league finals, to be held at Del Mar. The Varsity finals are scheduled for Nov. 12 at Stanford.

BASKETBALL
On Saturday, Oct. 24, there was also a C and D basketball meet. The three teams present at the tourney were Del Mar, Leigh, and Campbell. Each team played two games and only Del Mar's teams each won two games, thus winning the tournament. In league games the C's won their first game of the season, defeating Los Gatos 47-21. Del Mar's hoopers hit from the free throw line in seven out of fifteen

Find a need.

To win a breakthrough in armored mobility by increasing the range and striking power of airborne armored units, the Army needed to make its newest assault vehicle as lightweight as possible. Its armor had to be lighter weight than ever. Yet it had to be tough enough to meet rigid armor specifications.

To fill the need, our Department of Metallurgical Research developed—and tested on our own ballistics range—a new kind of aluminum armor plate. It was submitted to the Army in competition with lightweight alloys from other aluminum producers...and chosen to protect the new "General Sheridan."

Fill it.

Now the Army's newest assault vehicle can be air-dropped on target, in force. With its new aluminum armor, the General Sheridan's protection matches previously-used aluminum armor alloys, at a considerable saving in weight! Find a need. Fill it. This is our way of working that contributes more useful product innovations—and gives more customers better service—every day.
